

GENERAL EFFECT PERFORMANCE
Rating	60-89	90-109	110-139	140-169	170-200
Effectiveness of Musical Program	The program lacks attention to quality, substance, and depth of repertoire, musical structure, continuity and staging of all aural and visual elements, appropriate to the ensemble.	The program seldom demonstrates attention to quality, substance, and depth of repertoire, musical structure, continuity and staging of all aural and visual elements, appropriate to the ensemble.	The program occasionally demonstrates attention to quality, substance, and depth of repertoire, musical structure, continuity and staging of all aural and visual elements, appropriate to the ensemble.	The program frequently demonstrates attention to quality, substance, and depth of repertoire, musical structure, continuity and staging of all aural and visual elements, appropriate to the ensemble.	The program consistently demonstrates attention to quality, substance, and depth of repertoire, musical structure, continuity and staging of all aural and visual elements, appropriate to the ensemble.
Performance & Showmanship	Performers lack uniform achievement in communicating intent, emotion, and intensity, both aurally and visually. Inconsistencies are prominent.	Performers seldom display uniform achievement in communicating intent, emotion, and intensity, both aurally and visually. There are many inconsistencies.	Performers occasionally display uniform achievement in communicating intent, emotion, and intensity, both aurally and visually. The performance lacks consistency.	Performers frequently display uniform achievement in communicating intent, emotion, and intensity, both aurally and visually. Inconsistencies are apparent.	Performers consistently display uniform achievement in communicating intent, emotion, and intensity, both aurally and visually. Minor inconsistencies may be apparent, but are infrequent.
Coordination	The visual performance lacks attention to detail in form, definition, space, time, style, precision and accuracy. Audio visual inconsistencies are prominent.	The visual performance seldom demonstrates attention to detail in form, definition, space, time, style, precision and accuracy. There are many audio visual inconsistencies.	The visual performance occasionally demonstrates attention to detail in form, definition, space, time, style, precision and accuracy. The performance lacks audio visual consistency.	The visual performance frequently demonstrates attention to detail in form, definition, space, time, style, precision and accuracy. Audio visual inconsistencies are apparent.	The visual performance consistently demonstrates attention to detail in form, definition, space, time, style, precision and accuracy. Minor audio visual inconsistencies may be apparent, but are infrequent.